

Sunkist Reamers from the Jack Griffin Collection

Jack with his prized Sunkist bowl from the 1933 Chicago
World's Fair

About Jack

Jack is an orange and avocado grower in Fillmore, CA. He is the son of Myrle Edis (Juvinal) Griffin, daughter of Martha A.(Goodwin) Juvinal, and David Edward Juvinal, the founder of the first Telephone Company of Monrovia.

The collection on display is only a fraction of his entire collection, however, it is beautiful and includes many representative pieces.

We think of oranges, lemons, and grapefruit when we hear “Sunkist” but not their pottery. Jack has an extensive collection of ashtrays, egg dishes, vases, reamers, advertising items, and more.

Jack is a National Reamer Collectors Association member and has a wonderful collection of the Association’s pieces from their conventions. Some representative pieces are included here. They are quality, clever gems, i.e., the race car, the rocket, and the Route 66. They all represent something about the city where the convention was held that year and include a reamer somewhere in/on the piece

Thank you, Jack, for sharing part of your collection with us!